

Phd in Branch: Political science
Speciality: Local administration.

brief

Phd in local administration speciality aims to form a high level in the field of political science in order to deal and address the most important issues and developments . At Phd level, the selected is required to follow six semesters of different courses on local administration relations , and after defending the thesis, the Phd candidate will obtain a “Doctorate” degree.

Field	Branch	Speciality
Law and Political science	Political science	Local administration

First Semester

Teaching unit	Course	Hours	Vol Hours
Matter	Human performance in the local administration	1h30	26h
	Information and communication technology	1h30	26h
	Methodology	1h30	26h
	English terminology	1h30	26h
	Documentary search	1h30	26h
	Teaching pedagogy lessons	1h30	26h
Workshop	Political and economic reforms in Algeria after 2011	x	x
Forum	The problem of local and national development and the globalization of inequality	x	x

Personal work	Student participation in scientific events (Study days, forums, publication in peer-reviewed scientific journals)	1h30	22h00
----------------------	--	------	-------

Second Semester 2

Teaching unit	Course	Hours	Vol Hours
Matter	Participatory local governance and local development in Algeria	1h30	19h30
	Information and communication technology	1h30	19h30
	Methodology	1h30	19h30
	English terminology	1h30	19h30
	Documentary search	1h30	19h30
	Teaching pedagogy lessons	1h30	x
Workshop	Political and economic reforms in Algeria after 2011	x	x
Forum	Local administration in Algeria	x	x
Personal work	Student participation in scientific events (Study days, forums, publication in peer-reviewed scientific journals)	x	x

Third Semester

Teaching unit	Course	Hours	Vol Hours
----------------------	---------------	--------------	------------------

Forum	The role of Algerian women in local administration	X	X
Personal work	Student participation in scientific events (Study days, forums, publication in peer-reviewed scientific journals)	X	X

Fourth semester

Teaching unit	Course	Hours	Vol Hours
Forum	Local finance	X	X
Personal work	Student participation in scientific events (Study days, forums, publication in peer-reviewed scientific journals)	X	X

Fifth semester

Teaching unit	Course	Hours	Vol Hours
Personal work	Student participation in scientific events (Study days, forums, publication in peer-reviewed scientific journals)	X	X

Six Semester

Personal work	Student participation in scientific events (Study days, forums, publication in peer-reviewed scientific journals)	X	X
----------------------	--	---	---

relevant axis for Phd in local administration

PhD in Local Administration, you may find the following axis relevant:

Local Government and Public Administration: This axis provides an overview of the principles, concepts, and practices of local government and public administration, including the role of local authorities in providing public services and promoting community development.

Policy Analysis and Implementation: This axis covers the methods and techniques for analyzing, designing, and implementing public policies at the local level, including the challenges of working within a decentralized governance system.

Financial Management in Local Government: This axis focuses on the principles and practices of financial management in local government, including budgeting, accounting, and financial reporting.

Intergovernmental Relations: This axis covers the interactions between different levels of government in the governance process, including the allocation of powers and responsibilities, the sharing of resources, and the resolution of conflicts.

These axis will provide you with a strong foundation in the key concepts and theories of local administration and prepare you for independent research and analysis in the field of local governance.

At Phd level, the selected is required to follow six semesters of different courses on local administration , and after defending the thesis, the Phd candidate will obtain a “Doctorate” degree.