- 1 Discuss Political Parties.
- 2 Discuss the Constitutional Tribunal.
- 3 Discuss what did you learn from constitutional law course .

1. Discuss Political Parties (4pts)

Introduction:

Political parties are essential components of democratic systems. They organize political participation, represent different interests and ideologies, and contribute to the functioning of public institutions.

Legal Framework in Algeria:

The Algerian Constitution guarantees political pluralism. According to Article 57 of the constitution 2020 The right to establish political parties is recognized and guaranteed. According to Article 58 of the 2020 Constitution, "Political parties shall be formed freely and shall be required to respect the fundamental components of national identity, national unity, security, and the democratic and republican character of the State." According to Article 3 related to organic law 12-04 A political party is a group of citizens who share the same ideas and come together with the aim of implementing a common political project, in order to access, through democratic and peaceful means, the exercise of authority and responsibilities in leading public affairs.

Conclusion:

Political parties play a vital role in promoting democracy and citizen representation. However, their operation must be within constitutional and legal frameworks to safeguard national interests.

2. Discuss the Constitutional Tribunal (4 points)Introduction:

The Constitutional Tribunal is a key institution in safeguarding the supremacy of the Constitution and ensuring the balance of powers within the state.

According to Article 185 .The Constitutional Court is an independent institution responsible for ensuring respect for the Constitution.

The Constitutional Court oversees the functioning of institutions and the activity of public authorities.

The Constitutional Court sets its own rules of procedure.

According to Article 186 .The Constitutional Court is composed of twelve (12) members:

- Four (4) members appointed by the President of the Republic, including the President of the Court;
- One (1) member elected by the Supreme Court from among its members, and one (1) member elected by the Council of State from among its members;
- Six (6) members elected by vote from among professors of constitutional law.

The President of the Republic sets the conditions and procedures for the election of these members.

Before taking up their duties, members of the Constitutional Court take the oath before the First President of the Supreme Court.

Conclusion:

The Constitutional Tribunal is a fundamental pillar in constitutional democracy, ensuring respect for the Constitution and legal accountability.

3. Discuss What You Learned from Constitutional Law Course (4 points)

Introduction:

The constitutional law course provided a foundational understanding of how modern states are organized and governed under legal frameworks .Djilali Bounaama University was the first university in Algeria That provide constitutional law Course In english since 2024 .

Key Learnings:

Concept of the State: I learned about the three essential elements of a state: territory, population, and sovereignty, and how the state differs from government and society.

Separation of Powers: Inspired by Montesquieu, this principle ensures that power is distributed among the legislative, executive, and judicial branches to avoid abuse.

Constitutional Supremacy: I understood the importance of the Constitution as the highest legal norm, which all institutions must respect.

Democracy and Fundamental Rights: The course covered the principles of democracy and the protection of human rights and freedoms under constitutional law.

Algerian Context: I learned about the evolution of Algeria's constitutional system, especially the reforms introduced in 2020 such as the Constitutional Tribunal .

Conclusion:

This course helped me appreciate the importance of constitutional law in building democratic institutions and protecting citizens' rights. It also developed my critical thinking about governance and legal systems.
