✓ PART TWO – (8 pts each)

1. What are the three pillars of sustainable development?

Economic

This pillar focuses on ensuring sustained and inclusive economic growth that generates employment opportunities and improves the standard of living. However, it must be achieved without compromising environmental and social welfare, considering the long-term effects of economic activities.

Relevant references:

- Sustainable Development Goal 8 (UN 2030 Agenda): Promote sustained, inclusive economic growth and decent work.
- International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights (ICESCR), Article 6: Right to work.

Social

The social dimension aims to promote equality and social justice, ensuring that everyone, regardless of their background, has access to basic rights such as healthcare, education, clean water, and housing. It also includes efforts to reduce inequalities, fight poverty, and foster social inclusion.

Relevant references:

- Universal Declaration of Human Rights (UDHR), Articles 25 & 26: Right to adequate living standards and education.
- ICESCR, Articles 11–13: Rights to housing, health, and education.
- Convention on the Rights of the Child (CRC) and CEDAW: Protection of vulnerable groups.

Environmental

The environmental pillar emphasizes the protection and conservation of natural resources. It involves sustainable management of ecosystems, reduction of pollution, and addressing climate change to ensure the planet's health and its ability to meet the needs of future generations.

Relevant references:

- United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change (UNFCCC) and Paris Agreement: Climate protection.
- Convention on Biological Diversity (CBD): Biodiversity conservation.
- Stockholm Declaration (1972): Right to a healthy environment.

These pillars are interconnected and must work together to create a balanced and sustainable future for all.
